REPORT OF TRAP-SHOOTING COMMITTEE.

To the Members of the Massachusetts Rifle Association:—

GENTLEMEN,—Your, committee respectfully submit herewith their report for the past year 1891.

Owing to the necessary interruption incident to the erection of the new club-house, the number of meetings for shot-gun practice has been somewhat smaller than in former years. However, this branch of the sport has suffered no serious inconvenience, and those who follow it have had ample opportunity to indulge in their favorite pastime.

Following past custom, a match was opened which ran through a stated number of competitions, and which was so arranged as to offer an incentive to regular attendance at the series of competitions. This proved to be a wise provision, and was attended with satisfactory results. A list of prizes aggregating $370.50 was offered, for which the competition was spirited.

GOLD COIN AND MERCHANDISE MATCH.

CONDITIONS. — Number of competitions, 14. Entrance, 25 cents each day. Choice of prizes won on aggregate of competitors' scores, in order made, as follows; 1st to 4th choice on 12 scores; 5th to 8th on 11; 9th to 11th on 10; 12th to 14th on 9; 15th and 16th on 8; 17th and 18th on 7; 19th and 20th on 6th; 21st and 22d on 5; 23d and 24th on 4.

To the highest aggregate made by any competitor in the entire match, a Gold Champion Medal.

The following-named gentlemen won prizes:—

Minor prizes were also awarded to Messrs. Dann, Stone, Hooper, and Woodward, who had failed to complete the prescribed number of scores.

The handsome gold "Champion medal was won by Mr. Samuel Bowker, on his aggregate score in the 14 competitions of the series.

In April, 1891, the "Shooting and Fishing Publishing Company" offered for competition a costly trophy to be contested for by the Gun clubs of the United States. Twelve monthly matches were provided for, of which nine already have been shot. It gives us great pleasure to report that no less than eight of these matches have been won by the team of this Association, together with the smaller trophies provided for each monthly shoot.

Your committee desire to make grateful acknowledgments to the following individuals and firms for valuable contributions to the prize-list of last year's matches:

Southington Cutlery Co.,	Dennison Manufacturing Co.,
John P. Lovell Arms Co.,	C. R. Morse, Esq.
Wm. Read & Sons,	Samuel Mason, Esq.,
Dame, Stoddard, & Kendall,	Geo. D. Dodd, Esq.,
Appleton & Litchfield,	W. E. Bartholomew.
Jacobs, Whitcomb, & Co.,

In conclusion, we would report that the facilities for trap-shooting at Walnut Hill are now all that could be desired — traps, pits, and equipments being in excellent condition; while our financial showing reflects credit on the management of this branch of the Association's membership.

REPORT OF RANGE COMMITTEE.

The duties of the Range Committee during the past year have been largely such as devolved upon them as constituting a part of the Building Committee, which has had charge of erecting the new shooting-house. That important work is made the subject of a special report by the appropriate committee.

The other work done at the range has included, in the first place, the removal of the old building (or the two-story part of it) a hundred yards south, where it will be useful both as a storehouse and as a dormitory for such shooters as may wish to stay at the Range over night, and quite likely, also, as a quiet and pleasant lounging-place in summer weather. It was found necessary also to move the horse-shed, at least a short distance, in order to avoid some of the projections of the new house, and, while the job was in hand, the committee thought best to place it far enough away so as not to injure the view of the shooting-house, as it is approached by the road, and besides, so that there could be no possible contamination of the well of drinking-water. Likewise the powder-house has been moved to a place where its severe Gothic style of architecture is in strict harmony with the surroundings.

At the 200-yard range the target pit has been extended to make room for additional targets to correspond with the twelve shooting-stalls of the new house. This improvement involved a considerable amount of labor, not only in digging and walling the pit, but in building a safety barrier behind the targets where the new part of the pit extends beyond the natural embankment.

The increased number of targets called for increased signalling facilities between house and targets, and as the old electric cable was too small and of somewhat faulty construction, a new 15-wire cable of the most approved pattern has been put in use, as also new bells at the pit, and other auxiliary conveniences, so that the signalling apparatus is now in first-class condition, and is found to facilitate the business of the range considerably.

Another matter incidental to the larger accommodations was the need of more telescopes, and accordingly nine new instruments of good quality have been purchased during the year.

At the 500-yard range the old iron targets have been replaced by paper ones, similar in construction to those at the 200-yard range, the advantage of which improvement is fully appreciated both by shooters and markers. At the same range the safety bulkhead behind the targets has, at considerable expense, been moved forward some distance where it is expected to prove more effectual in stopping stray bullets.

In order to give credit where it is due, it should be stated here that the details of work on the targets and pits have been left almost entirely to the judgment and supervision of the range-keeper, and in the opinion of the committee, the work has been done in as substantial and economical a manner as the means at hand would allow.

At the pistol or 50-yard range the shooting-stand has been partitioned off into separate stalls by means of suitable railings, so as to prevent shooters from being crowded by each other or by spectators.

The bulkhead and target supports at this range are at present of a somewhat temporary and unsubstantial character, but a considerable beginning has been made towards putting them in more convenient and durable condition, the expense of the alterations being fully warranted by the increasing interest in pistol shooting.

Both the 200-yard and 50-yard ranges have been guarded by wire fences where safety seemed to require. Extensive improvements have been made for the benefit of the trap-shooting section of the Association, the details of which are described in the report of the proper committee.

In general, the Range Committee are pleased to report that the Association property in their charge, aside from the long range (which has fallen into neglect through lack of patronage) is in satisfactory condition and good working order.

COMMITTEE'S REPORT FOR LADIES' DAY.

Sept. 26, 1891, was set apart for a house-warming of our handsome new club house, the dedication of the flag-staff, and the unfurling to propitious winds the beautiful stars and stripes generously donated by the lady friends of the Association.

It was a day for the ladies' reception and entertainment, and it proved a red letter one in the Club's history.

To Mrs. Orrin R. Dickey and Mrs. Wm. P. Thompson, as prime movers, to the many ladies who so ably assisted them in subscriptions, as well as to many of our friends in "The Press Rifle Association," the thanks of the M. R. A. are extended.

The day was a glorious one. The range never looked better. Many flags were flying and nature was smiling.

Two barges were kept busy bringing 150 friends, over half of whom were ladies.

The new club house was profusely decorated with bunting and flags, and was full of happy people all day.

Dr. Charles H. Gerrish in his felicitous manner represented the ladies in the presentation of the flag and staff, and our President accepted the gift for the Club with appropriate remarks. Mr. Jesse A. Dill spread a fine collation in the dining-hall, and Mr. John A. Lowell, for many years a life member, furnished artistic menus for the occasion.

All kinds of shooting were indulged in for the ladies' pleasure and prizes.

The shot-gun men were at the traps, the riflemen faced the butts, while many of the ladies competed among themselves for prizes in shooting a rifle on the 100-yards range.

All the matches were so arranged as to give each lady a prize, a souvenir of some kind, and so all were pleased; and when they returned home they took with them an experience of a day's novel pleasure and the hearty invitation of the Massachusetts Rifle Association to come again.

REPORT OF THE BUILDING COMMITTEE.

To the Members of the Massachusetts Rifle Association :

GENTLEMEN: As many of you will recollect a special meeting of this Association was held at the Quincy House, Boston, upon the evening of Feb. 26, 1891, at which the following vote was passed:

"That, provided a house of at least $2,000 in value could be placed upon our range at Walnut Hill, the Association would appropriate $1,100 from the treasury, which sum, together with all moneys received as entrance fees, life memberships, and donations, from Jan. 1 to July 1, 1891, should constitute a fund, to be known as the "Building Fund," for the erection of a new shooting-house at Walnut Hill.

A committee of five members was duly appointed to take the matter in hand.

To Mr. Chas. H. Eastman, who very kindly, as you know, volunteered his services on our behalf, we are indebted for the plans and specifications from which our present house has been built.

It soon became evident that we should have more than the required minimum of $2,000, and, by virtue of the authority conferred upon them at the meeting of Feb. 26, your committee advertised for estimates for the erection of the proposed structure. Four were received, and after due consideration the contract was awarded to Thomas Baxter, of Stoneham, Mass., who has fulfilled said contract entirely to our satisfaction.

It now becomes the pleasant duty of your committee to acknowledge the great kindness and generosity of our members and friends who have contributed to our new home, and present a brief statement of the amounts received and expended:

Whole amount from membership fees and donations . . .	$1,905 00
" " appropriated from Association treasury . . .	1,100 00
	$3,005 00
Amount paid for erection of house, moving old building, painting Association room, etc.	$2,853 50
Balance unused	$151 50

It will be thus seen that the sum withdrawn from the treasury for the new house instead of being the $1,100 authorized by the vote of Feb. 26, from the liberality of our friends is $948.50, as shown by balance above mentioned.

In order to give those members of the Association who may not have visited the range recently an idea of the new house, a few words of description may not be amiss. The structure is two stories in in height, with a sloping roof at either end, which upon the west forms the roof of the piazza, and at the eastern end affords a shelter for those shooting the pistol. The piazza runs around the building upon the south side also, and is equal in width to the projection at centre of south side, which contains the office and also staircase leading to second floor. It will thus be seen that the first floor, which is 90 x 20, is left practically clear and amply spacious for all ordinary occasions. This room is heated by two large stoves, and thus far the temperature has been satisfactory. The second story contains, besides ample closet room, a large dining-room 55 x 20, and at the western end a smaller room, 20 x 20, provided with a fireplace, and known as the Association Room. It is confidently hoped and expected that this will form one of the chief attractions of our house, and already, through liberal contributions of articles of ornament and decoration, it is assuming a cheerful and home-like appearance.

In conclusion, your committee beg to again acknowledge the generosity of our members and friends who have so loyally stood by us at this important time and helped to erect the handsome and commodious house which we now take pleasure in turning over to you; congratulate you upon such eminently satisfactory quarters, submit this, our report, and beg to be discharged. We hereby append a list of those subscribing to the "Building Fund."

Respectfully submitted,
